

Remote Workforce IT Services

For many companies, working from home has become the new normal. Remote workers create new IT challenges and opportunities. That is why remote staff need a highly-available, highly-secure work environment to stay productive.

SECURITY

Don't put your company at risk. Work with TeamLogic IT. We do more than keep your remote team productive, we keep them secure. Connecting employees' personal home computers across a VPN to a network without ensuring they are secure and compliant can expose your entire organization to malware, ransomware and other vulnerabilities. Company data on personal devices may not be protected by backup, antivirus and other data protection to ensure your companies applications and data are safe and secure.

Our approach is based on industry best practices and documented processes designed to help you manage the risks of employees working remotely. We also partner with leading technology vendors to ensure your team is connected, productive and secure. Our services include:

Identifying assets and data that require protection

Protecting your assets proactively

Detecting incidents and remediating remotely

Supporting help desk inquiries rapidly

ASSESSING YOUR NEEDS

As a managed IT services provider, our priority is to deliver the highly available, secure and flexible IT systems you need to compete in the marketplace, and comprehensive remote office support is part of that promise. We start by assessing your environment from a security perspective and perform the following types of assessments, based on your business:

- Remote Office Assessment
- Cloud Readiness Assessment
- Cybersecurity Assessment
- Network Assessment
- Wireless Assessment
